DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgements

1. The amendment filed on 10 September 2007 has been acknowledged. Claims 1-72 and 101-102 are pending. Applicant's remarks with respect to claims 1-72 and 101-102 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Double Patenting

2. ("The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).
3. A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

4. Claims 1-72 and 101-102 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6012039. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both inventions relate to tokenless biometric computer systems, which do not require the rewards recipient to use any man-made portable memory devices such as smart cards or magnetic swipe cards. The claim language of "formation of a user rule module customized to the user in a rule module clearinghouse, wherein at least one pattern data of a user is associated with at least one execution command of the user;" in the current application is being interpreted as the reward program in Patent No. 6012039.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-72 and 101-102 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shockley et al. (U.S 5534855), in view of Schultz (U.S 5056019).
7. As per claims 1-72 and 101-102, Shockley et al. describes an invention comprising of:
- a. an applicant 100 supplies biometric information 105 to a registrar 110 as part of the processing of an account (C.5, LL. 35-37)
 - b. Authorization to execute any task is validated at the time a request is made by comparison of the digitized canonical forms of biometric data of the user completing the request with those of the user initiating the request. (C.3, LL.14-33)

8. Shockley et al. did not explicitly describe an invention in which the process being validated is a reward program. However, Shultz describes a reward system in which the consumer is identified using a consumer identification code (C5, LL.2-7).
9. Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to construct a system that would employ biometric identification in a customer reward program because it would provide a more secure environment that better enhances user identification.
10. Shockley et al. also describes a process, taking place in a wide area network (C7, LL.46).
Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to construct a system that would employ the internet as the wide area network because the internet is a set of computer networks that may be dissimilar and are joined together by means of gateways that handle data transfer and conversion of messages from the sending networks' protocols to those of the receiving network (Microsoft Computer Dictionary).
